This TRAINING COURSE aims at developing the competences of youth workers and social workers. The main themes of the project will be intercultural dialogue, social inclusion and the use of creative tools.

Expected partners in the project will have the experience or the interest in working with young people from disadvantaged backgrounds and an active interest in using creative tools (theatre) in youth and social work.

The methodological approach of the project will be focused on Non-formal education and the working methods will include theatre tools, team building, simulations, debates, working groups, workshops, evaluation sessions and follow-up activities.

Objectives of the project:

- To deepen in sharing tools and artistic methodologies for initiatives related to artistic community development
- To support cultural consciousness in participants and their intercultural learning development.
- To provide tools of intervention that can be applied in social contexts
- To propose to participants a clear methodological approach based on theatre and creativity to improve the impact of their social initiatives.
- To share among participant's tools that can be used in different social contexts in their countries to promote social inclusion
- To promote new networking youth initiatives based on performing arts and creativity as tools for social transformation.
